Retrospective View of 1858. "I heard a sink men's deing sigh, As infant's idle taughter, The O'd Year went with meaning by, The O'd Year went with meaning by.
The New can e dancing after.
Let grief and sadness claim the tear,
Let itersty bodd for ladde:
Bring bougns of eyers so fo, the hier,
Fling roses an the cradle!
Muters to wait on the fine rai state,
Pages to pour out the wine,
And a requirem or Fliry-Eight,
And a health to First-Nikh!"

The past year has not been remarkable for great events, with the exception of the laying of the Atlantic Tele graph Cable, and the treaties with China by which the commerce of that vast nation is to be opened to the competition of the world, there is little of primary importance to be noted. Among the items of smaller significance are the marriage of a British princess to a member of the royal live of Prussia; the emancipation of serls in the Russian empire; the completion of the immense naval works at Cherbourg, and the gigamic recoustr ctions of streets and edifices at Paris, by the sham Napoleon; the opening of the Red Sea route from England to India, and the partial pacification of the latter country.-In our own land, the death of Ex-Senator Benton, of Missouri; the sailing of the war-fleet to Paraguay; the opening of the Overland mail route to California, and the burning of the Crystal Palace in New York, are the leading incidents.

What shall the New Year develope, of interest and benefit to the toiling millions? What new and successful enterprises for the moral and material welfare of the race P. What ambicious, selfish and in calesa projots, beinging devistation and ruin in their train? Alas, we "I how not what a day may being forth." The world is full of latent energy, immense capacities for the promotion of man's higher and noblest good-out now o ten do we see these perverted to his domage and destruction!-Our greatest and strongest hope is in the difficient of light and knowledge; in the prevalence of tenth over erour; of a sense of right over the impulses of more brute force.

For the promotion of these ends, all good in fluences must and will unite. That we may see them more efficient, more harmontates, more successful in the year non immediately before us, t. an they have been in any previous year, is our addent wish.

The Great Entern.

The people of Portiano, Me., we perceive by the papers, are making active and extensive preparations for the reception of this manmoun steamer, which I is expected with visit this country in the Spring, Forty-five thousand dottars have been expended on their steamship dock, with special rescrence to this circulastance. And who will say it is not money judiciously invested? The thousands and a mirrors of thousands of persons was wid you. Partiall Iron all parts of the country for the purpose of viewing this monsier of the deep, will not go there unpty handed, nor carry their "bread and carese" wan tuem. They must eat, drick and sieep, wante they are there, and of course will pay for it, and the money will go to increase the wealth and financial importance of the city.

It has been said, with how much truth we are not prepared to say, that had Newport been wide awake as other piaces, and put forth the proper efforts in season, this port would have men the point selected as the landing place of the Circat Eastern, Instead of Portland, over which it passes es far auperior actions in almost every particular, while it is inserior in none. The harvor is easier of a coss, and the dipth of water greater, wante i r note, accommodations we are not surpassed by any seapout town on the Atlantic reasonal where the stramer

This opportunity has allepted through our flagers, one many orders before, through what we must term the stupulity of those whose interests would be particularly served had the thing been accompashed, and the Great Eastern will make her first ] entry into Positiond. But it is not too mass for us to accomplish sametning, even now. Were proper educes put with, the owners of the boat might be induced to have her stop here on her way home from Portland. Could this or dam, mousands would thek hither from Host in, New York, Phranelphia, and most of the given cans of the South and West, instead or going to Portland. The matter is certainly worthy the attention of those whose advantage E is to see the city domish in a linguistal point of

LOCAL.

THE STORM .- We were visited, vesterday, by one of the most violent and tedious storms that has occurred in this vicinity for years. The storm was from north-east to north-west. The wind commenced blowing fresh from the north-east Monday morning, and cortinued through the day. Soon after milnight it commenced snowing, the wind increasing to a gale, sending the snow in blinding drifts in the faces of the few people who were compelled to be abroad, and piling a in huge mounds at every corner. It showed furiously through the day, while the howling of the fierce blast was suggestive of anything but calm birth of Christ, for then the whole world ard pleasant weather. Towards noon, the wind thanged to the north-w st. without, however, abating any of its force. Nothhowever, aborting may of its force. Noth- vaded their villages; they also styled it pg rould be discremed seeward, and even Aften Vala, or after Christmas. vessels in the irner barbor were obscured at times by the blinding sterm. We saw, at an early hour, two or three ladies abroad, with cluse-record crinoline, soudcing before the gale, but they had disappeared I my before moon, and the streets presented a lonesome and descript appearance. Our taithful and indomitable carriers came in from their morning's work looking like beings fresh from the arctic regions, the moisture having congented on their beards to solid cakes of ice. So lar as we have heard, every sub-criber on their routes received his paper,

There were no mails received here yesterday from any quarter. The Perry got up steam and was ready to start at her usual hour; but it was not deemed prudent to a ttempt the passage. The Perry is one of the staunchest and best officered and manned steamers on the American waters, and when she does not venture out, other cruft had better not try it. The State of Maine, which left here at her usual hour Monday night, had not been heard from yesterday atternoon. She probably encountered the storm near Foint Judita and went into Stonington or New London. The other boat did not leave New York .-The Fall River stage which left here yesterday morning, probably reached that place during the day, but did not make the return trip.

We have not heard of any marine disasters in this vicinity, though there doubtless have been several on the coast not jet

THE NEW YEAR. - January, our first mouth (so cailed from Janus, an ancient of Italy, who was deified after his death.) is derived from the Lutin word Januarius. Janus was reputed to preside over the gate of heaven; the name of the month is indicative of its being at the opening of the New Year. Janus was represented with two faces, looking in opposite directions: one old, the other youthful, representing the old and the new era. He held a key in his hand, on which were the numbers 365, the number of days in a year which be unlocked and presided over. The temble in Rome, erected to his memory, was quadrangular, having one door and three windows on evel side. It stood upon Janiculum Hili, nd was always kept open in time of war. It was closed only three times during the lapse of seven hundred years. It was closed at the time of the Our Saxon am estors called was at peace. January Wolf monat, or Wo't-month, or account of the famished wolves which in-

Prince, the peasant-poet, thus apostrophizes the initial month:

Recometh! the older born child of the year, With a turbulent voice and a visage xistere; But his cold, callous hand, and his borest breath

Propare for new life the low relies of death; A hangeling in temper, but ever sublime Is this moody, mad offspring of stern wheter time,

The advent of the New Year has been from time immemorial kept as a day of re-joicing. By the Greeks it was a solemn festi-val; by the Romans one of leasting and congratulation. Throughout Christendom it is kept as a holiday. Bolls are rung at midnight to ceichrote the exit of the old, and the advent of the new year.

The commencement of the year has different times been assigned to the 25th of December, or Christmas day, the 1st of Jan ary, or the day of circumcision, and the 25th of March, or Foster day, commemorative of the Resurrection. Despite its icy breath and frigid aspect, ruzged witter seems to be prophetic of a jayous new existence, as those who have become frosted with age appear for the take to have rejuvenescence. It forms a sort of testing-place in the progress of life's journey, from which we all persuade our-selves, however we may depreciate the past, that the fiture is gilded wit. Iris hopes of happiness. If the external aspect of nature appears cheerless and chily, the scene is but the more heightened by the contrast of the surny smiles and generous hospitalities of the happy fires de of kindred and friends. and votive offerings to friendship.

Friendly interchange of visits, congratulations and the presentation of gifts, seem to have been in vegue in every age. The a cient Druids were necessioned to cut the sucred mistletoe with a golden knife, in a forest dedicated to the gods, and to distribute its branches with much ceremony as new year's gifts to the people.

RIGORD'S, VELPEAU'S CIIVALE'S ACTON'S CURLING'S and the venerial hospital practice of Paris and London. As some persons alliet d with seminal debility and diseases of the Genito-urinary organs may not be aware of the fact, Dr. LAR-MON'I takes this mode of puburning them that he is the ordy graduate in New York City who is exclusively treating and curing these diseases, and whose connection with the European hospitals emaile him to adopt the latest and most severe cases. All who have been unsuccessfully and barbarously treating atthe Mercury, Copulas, Injections, Canterization, Quack Specifics, Antidotes, &c., will he presented with proofs by Br. Larmont that he will permanently care them in the shortest possible time. Partients have private and separate rooms. Those living at a distance can be cured at home, through the express and mail, as well and privately as at the office; as the medicines are convenient, pleasant, and do not cause sickness.
